

Hello,

It is my opinion that the use of cellular phones should not be allowed on aircraft while in flight.

I own a cellular phone and use it all the time. But when I am in public places I use some descretion so as not to interupt others in the area. Other cellular users are less than considerate. I don't want to end up sitting next to someone for four hours while this person constantly talks into their cell phone.

A plane is a different environment that other public places. The area is very confined and you are only inches away from the person next to you. You can't just get up and change seats if the person next to you is bothersome.

Thank you.
